Frequently Asked Questions

What is Vináli?

Vináli® is a potent antioxidant blend of grape seed and grape skin extracts, Vitamin C, bioflavonoids, minerals and phytonutrients. This advanced formulation supports the immune, respiratory and cardiovascular systems, provides free-radical protection and promotes cell health plus skin elasticity. When taken daily, Vináli has been shown to help maintain healthy blood sugar levels, aid your eyes, produce anti-aging benefits and boost whole-body wellness.

What was changed in the new Vináli formula?

1. We've revamped and enhanced the formula to include grape skin extract, which is high in Resveratrol, to help support your heart and fight damage caused by free radicals through its antioxidant power.
2. In an effort to improve our carbon footprint, we decided to make the switch to 100% vegan capsules – made from veggies, not gelatin. Because these are now transparent, you'll actually see all the goodness we've packed into every tiny capsule!
3. We've increased the amount of Vitamin C in each serving and replaced the previous sources of Vitamin C (potassium, magnesium and zinc ascorbate) with more natural sources of Vitamin C found in whole foods like:
 - Green pepper: Vitamin C sourced from whole foods to help support a healthy immune system, collagen production, damage caused by free radicals and cholesterol management.
 - Alma fruit extract: Vitamin C sourced from whole foods. It's also high in phytochemicals and antioxidants to help fight damage caused by free radicals and support healthy liver function and cardiovascular health.

Why is there additional Vitamin C in Vináli?

Medical studies have shown that there is a synergistic effect in consuming Vitamin C and grape seed extract together. They enhance each other's benefits. This means that one plus one is not two, but instead is eight or ten.

Many companies use grape seed extract without any other nutrients in their products, which decreases its effectiveness. ARIIX uses the highest quality grape seed extract available in the marketplace today and combines it with Vitamin C to make it even more potent.

What is the recommended dosage of Vináli?

The recommended dosage is 1 capsule twice daily, preferably with meals.

If I am taking the Optimals, do I also need to take Vináli?

There are 100mg of grape seed extract, which is the main nutrient found in Vináli, in the Optimals. Vináli is one of the most potent antioxidant supplements available. Having this nutrient in the Optimals is one of the reasons so many individuals are experiencing significant health benefits from consuming Optimals daily. However, some individuals desire and need to be consuming additional grape seed extract. If you tend to suffer from fatigue, you may find that consuming one or two Vináli capsules daily with your Optimals is beneficial.
